PUBLIC LEDGER

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1887.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1893.

MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1905.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

THE DISCONTENTED MAN.
He talks about the weather,
And, be it cold or hot,
He always wishes that it was
The kind that it is not.

—Boston Transcript.

THE LEDGER delights in obliging its friends. It prints "Help Wanted," "Situations Wanted," "Lost" and "Found" notices free of charge; and as it costs you nothing for such service, don't you think it is as little as you can do to write the copy and either bring or send it to the office?

If you have an item of news, please call up The Ledger, Telephone 33, and let us have it.

Baldwin Pianos at Gerbrich's.

J. Banks Durrett says he is surfeited with chaffing dish affairs and to change the monotony of the times will, one evening next week, give an old time candy-pulling that will be the real thing. His friends are looking forward to the event in great expectancy of something real unique and recherche.

We are making special prices for October weddings; we have everything to make the bride happy. Silver, Cut Glass, Fine China, Bronzes, Jewelry and Diamonds. Call and see the before making a selection. We will make it interesting for you.

P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

Mrs. Ed. H. Bryant of East Second street received a telegram yesterday from her brother, Mr. J. W. Farrow, stating that Mrs. Farrow had died Thursday evening at their home in Iatan, Mo. Mr. Farrow moved from Mason county to Missouri in 1878. She leaves a husband and two daughters. The funeral occurred today, and the interment was in the family burying-ground in Kansas.

'T WAS MUCH ALIVE

Head of a Turtle Gives Evidence of Vigorous Life

The next time handsome Neddy Schwartz monkeys with the decapitated head of a turtle he will be dead sure it has been severed from the body at least twenty-four hours.

Last evening he dropped in at Hland & Wella's saloon and Ben, the colored chef of the establishment, had just completed dissecting a gallinaceous bird preparatory to converting the minute parts into toothsome soup.

The head was lying apart and Ed, picking it up, innocently put his finger into its mouth and when he did so it came together with a vise-like clamp that caused him to hop about three feet into the air and howl like a wounded Indian.

It took the combined efforts of the employees of the house to release the finger from the mouth of the turtle.

During the imprisonment of the member they say Ed actually sweat drops of blood.

If you think this is a fairy tale ask Ed about it and examine his finger.

Rev. J. L. Sturgill of the East End will leave Monday for Vermillion, Ill., on a visit to his sister. While there he will assist in a protracted meeting. He will be gone about two weeks.

I will offer at public auction on the premises at 10 a. m. Saturday, October 21st, eight lots 50x300 feet, situated on street car line and Mt. Carmel turnpike, part of Fairground property.

C. F. TAYLOR, Agent.

LOOKED LIKE MURDER

Two Colored Citizens Engage in a Firstclass Scrimmage

Edgar Dimmitt and George Middleton, colored, had a fight yesterday morning in the alley adjoining Murphy's jewelry store, in which a revolver and a draypin were used as weapons.

Dimmitt was belaboring his enemy over the head with the heavy stick, while Middleton had his 32 pressed against Dimmitt's stomach, but was unable to pull the trigger, from the fact that the latter had a death grip on his pistol arm.

It looked for a time as though the Coroner would have a case, but the two combatants were separated without serious injury to either.

Each fellow has his own story and the merits of the fracas will be sifted out in Judge Whitaker's Court at 10 o'clock this morning.

BRIGHTMAN VICTORIOUS

Quick and Ludicrous Ending of an Attempted Shakedown

As predicted by THE LEDGER, in the showdown in Squire Dressel's Court yesterday afternoon in the case of the Commonwealth v. Brightman, the latter held four aces, and with a pair of jacks up his sleeve to use in case of an emergency, he won the pot with the greatest of ease.

But, seriously, it smacked more of a shakedown than otherwise. Mr. Brightman had no trouble whatever in establishing his innocence—in fact here in the city where he is best known as a man of integrity, no one gave the charge against him credence for a minute.

The first warrant, which was for stealing corn, was dismissed, and in its stead one issued for "taking" vegetables, to-wit—corn. Why the change the Commonwealth is left to answer.

Mr. Brightman was represented by Messrs. Cochran & Worthington and the Commonwealth by the County Attorney.

The Jury was composed of our best and most intelligent citizens and it did not take three minutes to return a verdict of acquittal.

Such men as Charles D. Pearce, Colonel R. B. Lovel, James N. Kirk and others equally prominent, appeared in behalf of Mr. Brightman.

SOME OF ITS DEBTS

The Assets and Liabilities of the Garnett Marble Company

Mr. Clark Wilburn Garnett, doing business as The Garnett Marble Company, as stated in yesterday's LEDGER, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy Thursday through his Attorneys, Sallee & Slattery.

Mr. Garnett came to Maysville from Cynthia some five years ago and engaged in the marble and monument business in Sutton street.

He built up quite a large and extensive business, and his many friends hope that his present embarrassment will prove only temporary.

The list of creditors is as follows:

Richmond will vote on a proposition to issue $15,000 in bonds to build a City Hall.

Winchester is to be the meeting place of the next annual State Development Convention.

The remains of Mrs. Nancy DeBell, who died a few days ago at her home at Mound Valley, Kan., were brought to Flemingsburg this week for interment.

AN EDUCATIONAL POWER.

The unlimited educational value of moving pictures has been nowhere demonstrated so forcibly as in Lyman H. Howe's new program which will appear at the Opera-house this afternoon and tonight. There is little in the length and breadth of this great world that escapes Mr. Howe's unremitting researches. He has compassed heights and depths of difficulties hardly realized by other exhibitors. So much that is extraordinary has been written of the notable proficiency and distinction of this masterful exhibition that it is universally regarded with singular interest. Seats on sale at Ray's.

The friends of Miss Nancye Bland will regret to learn of her illness at her home in West Second street.

MILDRED HOLLAND.

"The Triumph of an Empress," Mildred Holland's latest and greatest success, will be presented at The Washington on Thursday, October 19th, in which she appears as Catherine the Great of Russia. The Boston Globe paid the following tribute to Miss Holland's Catherine:

"The Triumph of an Empress," produced for the first time in Boston last evening at the Majestic Theater, with Mildred Holland as Empress Catherine, was received with an amount of enthusiastic applause that can be interpreted solely as the warmest kind of commendation for play, star and company.

WATCH OUT FOR NEW PREMIUMS. THEY ARE COMING.
